

Fast Facts about E-Books

The Bechtold Library's e-book collection is our fastest growing collection! Here's what you need to know to start using them quickly.

- E-books may be checked out by current students, faculty and staff, including auditors and students from other institutions taking courses at CTU.

- An OpenAthens login is required (contact the IT department to register)

- E-books appear in both the catalog (PrimoVE) and in EBSCO Discovery Service (EDS). There's overlap between them, but search both when you need an e-book.

- Policies on downloading, printing, and loan length vary by publisher and by title. Some books may be checked out in their entirety while others are chapter by chapter.

- You may need to set up a free account with the vendor (EBSCO, ProQuest, etc.) or download separate software to use an e-book. Details are provided when you click the link to download the book.

- Some e-books will appear as “Available” or “Available on Request.” Use the “Request” button to request that CTU purchase that book. We respond to purchase requests within 24 hours.

- You cannot borrow e-books that another institution owns but you can use e-books provided by our consortium, which appear in the catalog as provided by CARLI.

See our E-Book LibGuide for more details.
For help with E-Books, contact

Deb Winarski
Electronic Resource and Instruction Librarian
dwinarski@ctu.edu